Treasured accomplishments endure . . .

Treasured accomplishments endure —
our memories hold them near our hearts.

Treasured accomplishments endure —
our victories are a part of history.

Treasured accomplishments endure —
our art,
our music,
our community,
our nation,
our world.

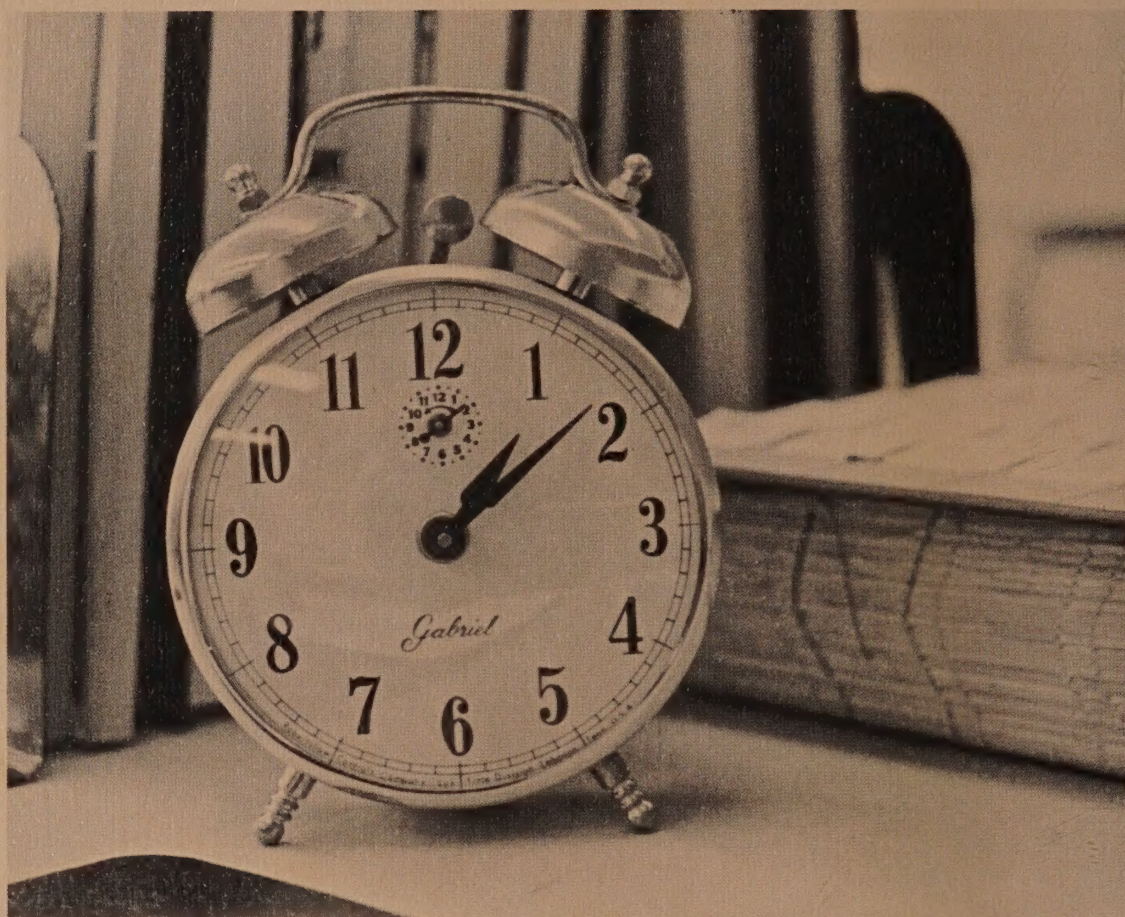

But the fleeting wings of time

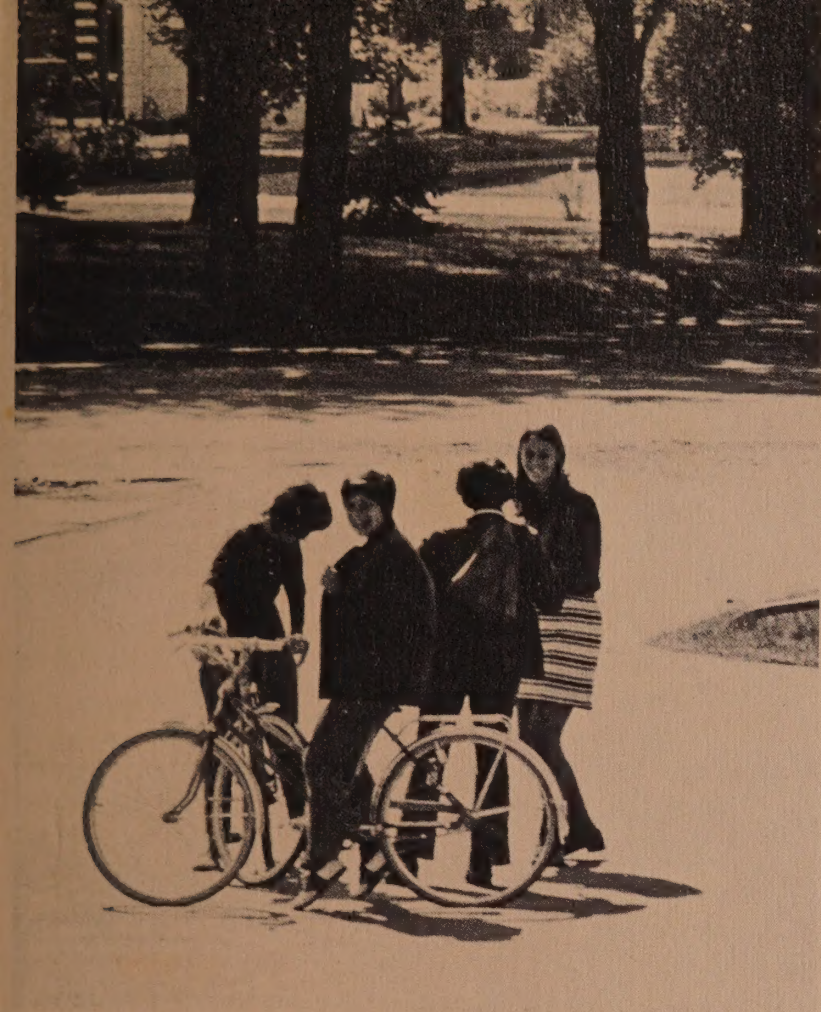

As we grow older,
we cannot be content with the status quo.

We must search for new horizons.

We have done much.

But there remains so much more to do.

Hasten to bear new enterprises . . .

broader scope of the imagination

Our minds, clear and unspoiled, will burst into a brilliant Kaleidoscope.

Images of what can be will flood our being.

Our path will then be clear.

Flourishes . . .

Its Fruits

more succulent than before.

The key to our door toward life is DO —
do as much as we can, do the best we can.

Thus
the fruits of our endeavors will be sweet, sweeter than we might have dreamed.

And each generation

Yields new and beauteous blossoms,

Promising
Hope to the future,

For without Hope, we would drift — without direction to our lives, without a song in our hearts . . .

Renewing
Faith in her purpose,

Our Faith in our abilities will grow to encompass our Faith in humanity.

1971 Lion Dedication

Mr. Joseph Andreis

Joe Andreis Always Cares . . .

You are many things to us; a brilliant scholar,
a dedicated teacher, a concerned advisor.

More than this, you are a man whom we admire and respect because you always care.

Whenever anyone needed help, you were there giving advice in your own special way. For this we love you.

May life be as beautiful for you as you have made it for us.

The Class of 1971

Administration Makes LHS Efficient

The LHS Administration seeks to guide students, assist faculty, make policy, and contribute to the overall purpose and achievements of the school.

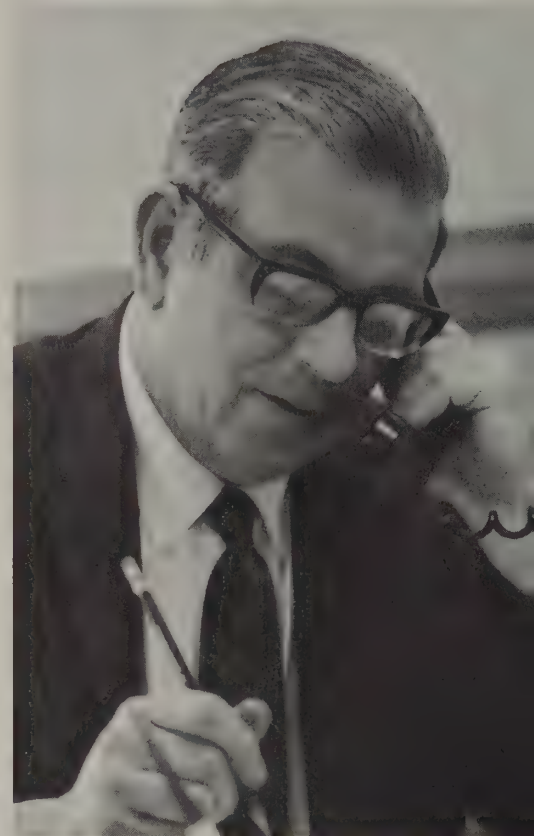

Mr. John Hurley successfully accomplishes the task of school Principal. He is competently assisted by three Assistant Principals, Mr. Grattan Rooney, Mr. William Rooney, afternoon session, and Mr. James Cavallo.

Mr. Cavallo began his new position at mid-term of the school year.

These administrators all work to make Ludlow High as effective and efficient as possible.

Guidance Department Expands Benefits

Expanding their numerous activities this year, The Guidance Department became a vital contributor to Ludlow High School. Two senior bulletins were published, supplying scholarship information, example applications, and other useful data.

The department sponsored a college orientation night for concerned parents and interested students.

This year LHS was a test center for college boards in December and May.

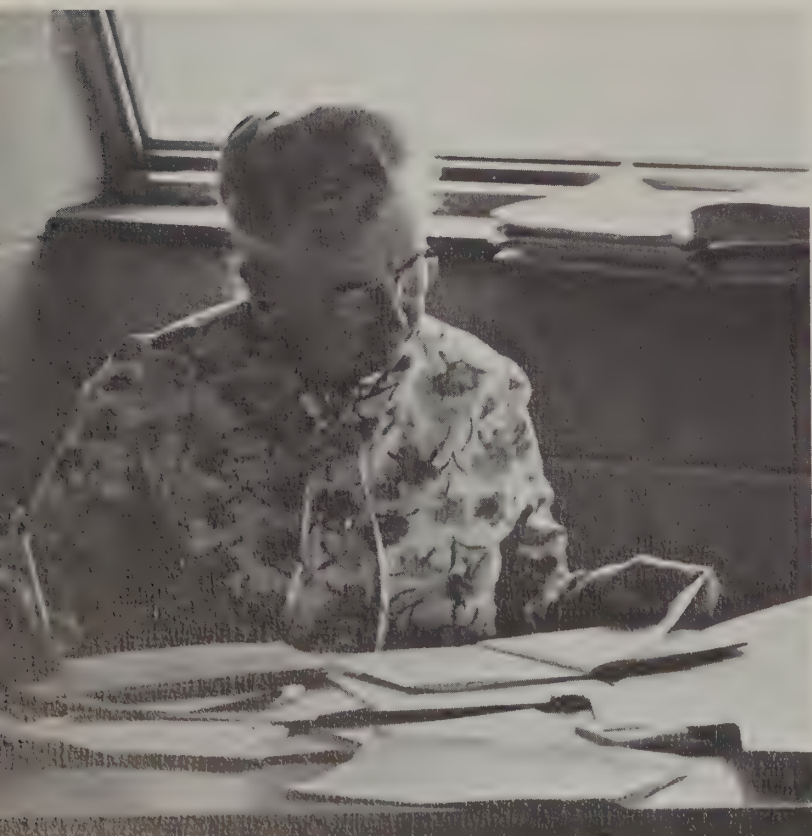

A Career Day was held again this year in conjunction with the Rotary Club to provide students not attending college with new ideas and possible future professions. Area company employers interviewed students and eighteen were hired on the spot at the Job Fair held in the spring.

The Job Fair supplies practical experience for future interviews and possible job opportunities for many.

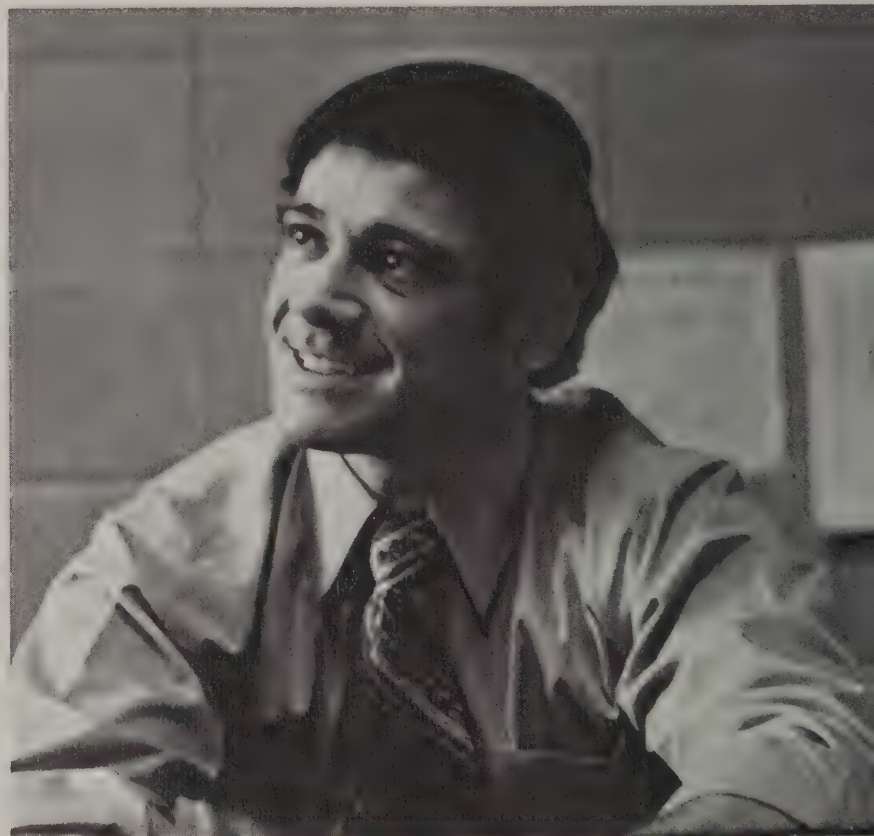

A new program termed "job — leaver" was instituted this spring to assist non-college prep students in their quest for jobs. Seniors were allowed to leave school several weeks previous to graduation and begin full-time work at their new job. Students entering the military service were also allowed to leave early. This program was a great success and students profited by it.

Another new innovation was the presentation of career movies to interested students during study periods. Information questionnaires were collected with requests for differing movies to be shown.

The student body will certainly agree that the Guidance Department has greatly aided the students in their search for colleges, careers, and a better life.

Math Department Prepares Alert Minds

One of the most important accomplishments in today's society is the ability to comprehend and use mathematics to the fullest advantage.

The Math Department at LHS trains alert minds to achieve this goal.

Subject matter ranges from Algebra and Geometry to more advanced courses: Algebra II, Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and Calculus. Next year a full term senior Calculus course will be initiated.

Social Studies Department Expands To Include Economics Course

A new course, general economics, was introduced by the Social Studies Department this year. Under the guidance of Mr. James Cavallo, Mr. Lawrence Holdsworth, and Mr. Michael Williamson, this new course centered on the economic growth, business expansion, and consumer interests of our country. In addition, plans have been made and approved for two new half year courses, Psychology and Sociology, which will be initiated next year. These new courses, combined with the others offered, will increase the department's curriculum to twelve courses.

Language Department Involves Students

This year, the Language Department, due to many innovations, expanded student involvement and interest in classroom activities. Skits, dialogues, and numerous texts supplied the incentive to learning in the linguistics field.

But with these gains, there is a loss. The department bids farewell to a gracious, thorough, and industrious teacher, Mrs. Proctor, Department Chairman. The faculty, staff, and student body will deeply miss this dedicated woman.

Home Economics Creates Nursery Class

A nursery school program was initiated this year in conjunction with the Child Development classes in the Home Economics Department. The younger family members of students and faculty participated in this program which continued for two weeks. Students prepared daily lesson plans for the children including subjects such as art, music, plants, and a trip to the cafeteria. The students observed child behavior and studied specific problems. The department also sponsored the annual spring show, "Fashions with a Flair". The girls modeled their beautiful creations, which they made in clothing classes. These increased activities broadened the department's scope throughout the year.

Fine Arts Department Achievements

Under the excellent guidance of Mr. Bernard Burns, the art students created many beautiful and intricate ceramics, paintings, and collages, which were shown at the annual Spring Art Exhibit.

Students from the department also made scenery and props for the Theatre Art's production of "The Importance of Being Earnest," and the Music Department's production of the musical "Brigadoon," which not only attested to their great abilities but also added to the beauty of the productions.

Mr. Bernard Burns

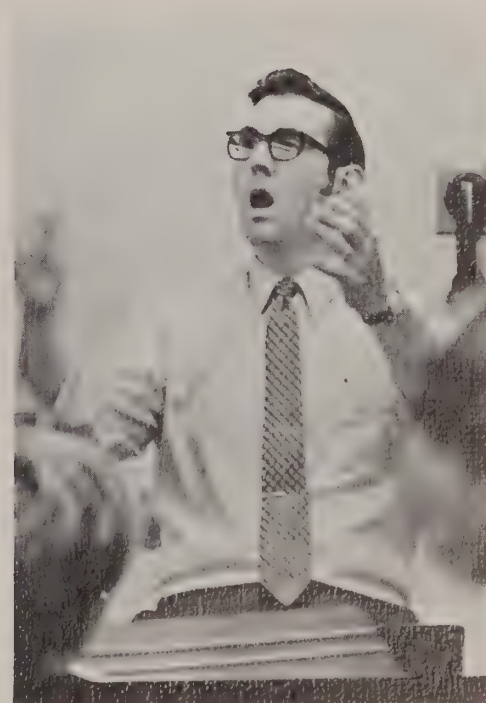

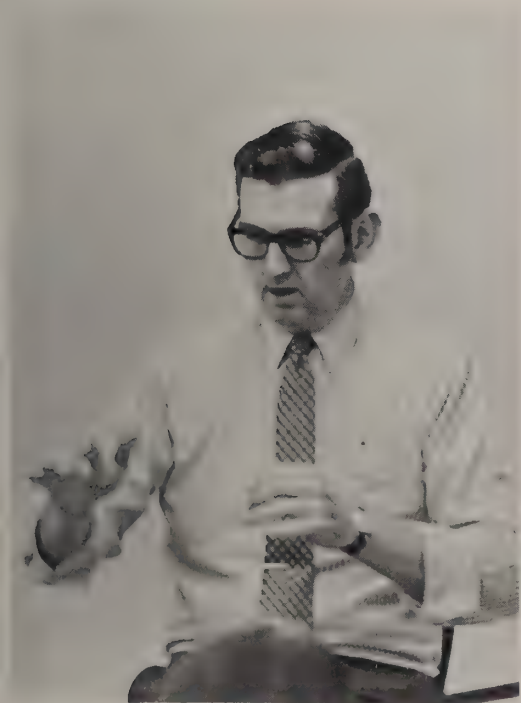

Excellence In Its Endeavors

Mr. Gregory Wrinn, Choral Music, Department Chairman

Beautiful choral music by the three performing groups highlighted the Christmas Concert and the Spring Music Festival, which were directed by Mr. Gregory Wrinn. Perfect ratings were awarded for excellence, but the credit is due to the undying time, talent, and search for perfection, employed by Mr. Wrinn. Concert Choir's diversified abilities were evidenced in "Brigadoon".

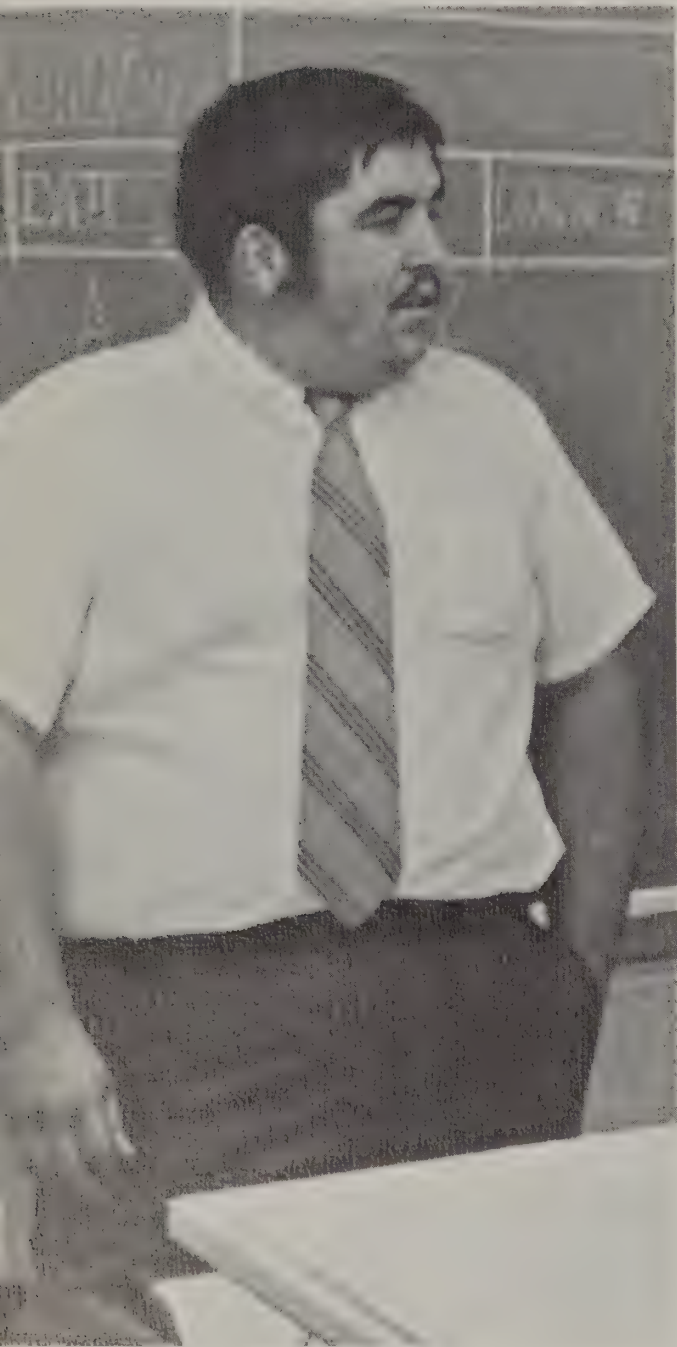

The Ludlow High School Marching and Concert Band became extremely proficient this year in their numerous endeavors. Their great achievements were due to hours of hard work and musical interest by band conductor Mr. Royce Layman. The LHS Band is a credit not only to him, but also to the school and the town as well.

Candidates Speak Out At LHS

Nineteen-seventy was election year in Massachusetts.

Several weeks before the election,

Lieutenant Governor candidates

Michael Dukakis and Donald Dwight visited Ludlow High School and spoke to the student body on many current problems, including pollution, housing, and responsibilities of youth.

After their keynote speeches, they opened the floor to questions from the audience, and the result was a fascinating insight into their political platforms and the future of Massachusetts.

These forums were a first for LHS, and hopefully will be continued in the future.

Mr. Dwight went on to win the election on the same ticket with Francis Sargent, and Mr. Dukakis is still active in the state legislature.

"The Dance"

The annual Booster Day dance and pep rally, "The Dance", was presented by the senior class on October 30, 1970. Concerned for their environment, the Class of 1971 decided not to stage the traditional bonfire as in recent years. Instead, the cheerleaders led the crowd that gathered on the front steps of the school in some favorite cheers. As the football players were introduced to the crowd, spirits were really riding high for the game against South Hadley the next day. Following the rally, the crowd moved to the gym to dance to the music of Armageddon.

Miss Victory Highlights Annual Hi-Y Presentation

"Here, There, and Everywhere," the annual Hi-Y show, was presented on November 20, 1970, combining slapstick comedy with talent competition. Masters of Ceremonies Gary Allen and Neil Paquette kept the show moving with their instant ad-libs until the announcement of the talent competition winners. Capturing first prize were Matt Thompson and his group; Jane Ashe with her performance of "Ticket to Ride" was second; and Bill Barlow and Stonewall won third. The evening's climax was the introduction of Miss Victory 1970, Bonnie Hirt, and her court, made up of Anne Fillion and Donna Belliveau.

Juniors Recall Old-Fashioned Winters

On the evening of January 26, students of LHS found themselves in another time when the decorations committee of the junior dance, under its chairman Bridget Kozaczka, transformed the gym into a typical street from "A Winter Way Back When."

Entertainment chairman Alan Duda managed to get "Featherbed" to provide the music, and they performed in the midst of fir trees and Currier and Ives figures.

Junior advisor Mr. Linehan surprised the crowd by inviting Boston Bruins stars Ken Hodge and Wayne Cashman to visit the dance, where Hodge took over the drums and entertained the audience with his musical ability. Under general chairman John Nowak, the junior class made its first major event of the year a thoroughly enjoyable evening for all.

Senior Show Brings New Togetherness

Only a strong central theme and a unique togetherness can tie together 32 acts consisting of almost 300 people. The Class of 1971 had the first ingredient — “We’ve Only Just Begun” — and developed the second when it presented the Senior Show on February 12 and 13. M.C.’s Tony DeSimone, Renee Patnode, and Joanne Sears introduced the show, the result of six weeks of hard work by numerous people, including: Co-chairmen Michele Abair and Tom Ackerman, advisors Mr. William Mullins, Mr. Joseph Andreis, Mr. Charles Patullo, and Mr. James Cavallo, and music co-ordinators Mr. Gregory Wrinn and Mr. Royce Layman.

A heavy snowfall the week of the show made it possible for the snow sculpture committee to put into effect its plans for the biggest snow sculpture ever at LHS.

It represented industry and college, in which the graduates will participate, flanking the universal goal toward which everyone strives: Peace.

The Class ended the show by expressing a means for individual peace — “Make Your Own Kind of Music.”

Donkey Ball Introduced To Ludlow

On March 19, 1971, the Maroon Key challenged the faculty to a new form of basketball — donkey ball. The game is played like basketball, but players must ride donkeys around the court to score.

Players scored one point for touching the rim and two points for a basket. At the end of the evening, although the game was tied, it appeared that the donkeys had been the real victors.

They Said It Couldn't Be Done . . .

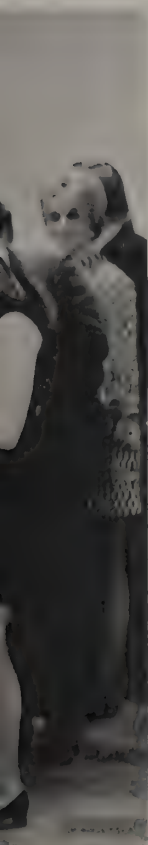

Again on March 26, the Ludlow High gym was bombarded with the antics of Ludlow's greatest basketball stars. Pitted against each other in the first game were the present LHS basketball team with alumni basketball stars. The second game matched the girls' varsity against senior Hi-Y members, who wore boxing gloves on one hand to give the girls an advantage.

The feature game of the evening, however, saw the high school faculty challenging their junior high counterparts. The often fast-moving action produced spontaneous applause and laughter from the large crowd. When the dust had settled, the alumni, the girls, and the senior high had emerged as victors.

Paradise At Sunset —

On a warm, balmy night in May the Class of 1972 transplanted an authentic Hawaiian island scene into the Ludlow High gym. Under the watchful eyes of General Chairman Sue Jaciow and advisor Mr. Jerome Linehan, Paradise At Sunset came to life.

Decorations chairmen Glenn Lowery and Rory Savoie helped their committee activate an erupting volcano and construct several life-size authentic grass huts. This magical land could be entered only over a wooden bridge which ran from the waterfall in the outer lobby. Jim Kurty and his band greeted the entering couples with enchanting island music and they danced and watched another waterfall trickle down a hillside. By the time the volcano made its final eruption, senior Debbie Pelczar had been crowned queen, and everyone left to continue the evening's enchantment in their own special way.

Fine Arts

Talented Seniors Lead Art Classes

The class of '71 was a class of great talent, especially in the field of art. Anyone walking by Room 101, during seventh period, would admire their great abilities. Tom Ackerman and Sue Bergeron supplied the Hi-News with their cartooning talents. Dave "Zebba" Yelle and Ken Lysik were responsible for many of the Spring Art Exhibit projects, and Debbie Dickinson and Betty Duquette aided Sue in adding the feminine touch to the room. With the aid of many talented underclassmen, the group of artistic seniors decorated the school with the Spring Art Exhibit. This show not only enhanced the corridors of the school, but also brought well-deserved recognition to those gifted people and their exceptional talents.

Choral Music Shows Variety And Dedication

Ludlow's two-year old Concert Choir gained wide recognition, this year, with the performance of the musical, Brigadoon, but only a segment of the year was devoted to the show — Day after day, dedicated Choir members worked to learn music — its style, authors, and proper vocal presentation.

After much preparation, members of the Concert Choir, Chorale, and Girl's Chorus presented the Christmas Concert. As traces of the previous night's blizzard were cleared away, loyal listeners came to hear the choir's renditions of "Ave Maria", "Schubert's Mass" and "Jazz Gloria".

Soloists were: Holly Warner, Linda Robbins, Jay LaBrecque, and Kim MacMaster.

The Chorale performed "Sycamore Tree" with solos by Gail Blais, Amy Trombley, and Cindy Swinton.

Besides their part in the concert, Chorale members also spread Christmas cheer by singing many familiar carols at Ludlow Hospital and in the Eastfield Mall.

On May 8, all three groups received top ratings at the Music Festival.

For this performance, the Girl's Chorus was directed by John Pranulis, a student teacher from U. Mass.

The Chorale also performed at the First Church for the Holy Week ceremonies and on June 4, a year of hard work was completed with the Chorale Banquet held at Betty's Towne House.

The year was not over, however, for the Concert Choir.

On June 9, at the Graduation Ceremonies, the Choir and band combined to shake the walls of Springfield Auditorium with their stirring rendition of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

This performance left the audience almost speechless and the Concert Choir with the feeling of having accomplished much in just one year.

Marching Band, Color Guard and Majorettes

Boost Spectators' Spirit

The band awaits their leader's command —
 His baton gives the signal —
 The shrill note of his whistle echoes throughout the football field —
 And once again the marching band presents its halftime performance.
 This year, however, Bob Meyer led the band with a little more zest.
 The Color Guard carried their flags a little more proudly.
 The majorettes twirled their batons with a little more spirit than the previous year.
 The reason?
 These brand-new bleachers were mobbed with Ludlow fans;
 The football team was playing on a brand-new home field;
 And the marching band,
 the Color Guard, and the majorettes could create a brand-new sensation in the crowd —
 And they did.

LHS Band Sponsors Exchange

The LHS Band had a very active year.

It participated in the Fall Foliage Festival and took 4th place.

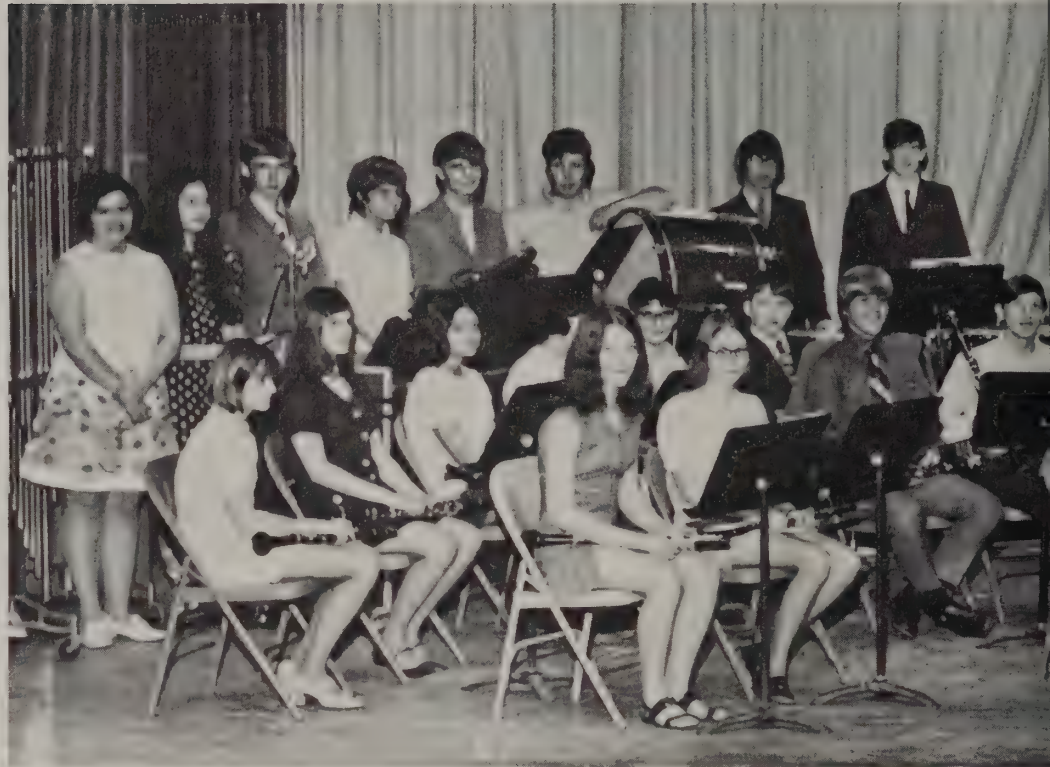

At the Western Mass. Music Festival, the Band rated 19 A's, 1 B, and 1 B+.

In conjunction with the choral groups, the Band played at the Christmas Concert.

The Swing Band played at the Thanksgiving Assembly.

The Stage Band played for "Brigadoon" and the Senior Show.

The highlight of band activities was an exchange concert with Cheshire High School of Conn. Both bands performed separately then together in a grand finale.

Gifted Musicians Triumph In Competition

This year many students won awards for their varied musical talents.

After tryouts were held, the following could boast membership in the District Chorus:

K. Schneider, G. Blais, H. Warner, S. Weaver, D. Mulhern, B. Barch, J. Wrinn, P. Wallace, K. MacMaster, S. Wadas, T. Tenerowicz, C. Reynolds, K. Duda, K. MacMaster, J. LaBrecque, and K. Alves. Tryouts took place once again to narrow down this group to the All-State

Chorus: K. Schneider, D. Mulhern, G. Blais, J. Wrinn, and J. LaBrecque.

Drum Major, Bob Meyer, was awarded a special trophy for his outstanding service to the band.

All-State Band members were also chosen from the amazing talent found in the band.

Chosen for this honor were: Jeff Apone, Mark Gaviglio, and Kim MacMaster.

Mark Gaviglio and "Class Musician", Kim MacMaster, also moved on to All-Eastern Band.

Students Perfect The Mechanical Arts

Many miraculous things occur in the LHS shop classes.
Young men learn the fundamentals of design, and then put what they have learned to practical use.

The students of the mechanical arts work with their hands to fashion objects of metal and wood — some practical, podiums, shelves, — some decorative,
plagues, signs.
The skills learned will also serve as a trade in later life.

Theatre Arts Creates "The Importance Of Being Earnest."

The lights, make-up, long rehearsals — all these combined brought to life Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest".

The story concerns the comical misadventures of two English gentlemen in their attempts to both woo and confuse the girls they love.

What follows is the Victorian answer to a Marx Brothers' adventure.

Starring were: John Herrick, Larry Willette, Diana Taylor, Karen Fuller, and Donna Slessler.

On May 8, Theatre Arts was invited to perform a portion of the play at the Regional Arts Symposium held at Minnechaug.

However, the happiest event came on May 15 when Theatre Arts ended an active year with the film "My Little Chickadee" starring W. C. Fields and Mae West with host, Hal Stanton.

JCL: A Symbol Of Togetherness

There are three aims which the Junior Classical League tries to accomplish — scientia, tempora bona, eperae bonae.

To fulfill the first aim, the club sponsored lectures — the first by the late Dr. Anne Parry on Aeneas' journey into Hades, and the second by Dr. Edward Phinney on Atlantis.

The JCL also traveled to the Holy Cross Classics Symposium. Archeological slides and the play, "The Cyclops", were presented.

To fulfill the second aim, there was a Christmas party.
Santa Claus arrived and there was much laughing, singing, and dancing.

The JCL was fortunate enough to view the opera,
"Dido and Aeneas", at Smith College.

This was an unforgettable experience.

The last field trip brought the JCL to Hampton Beach.

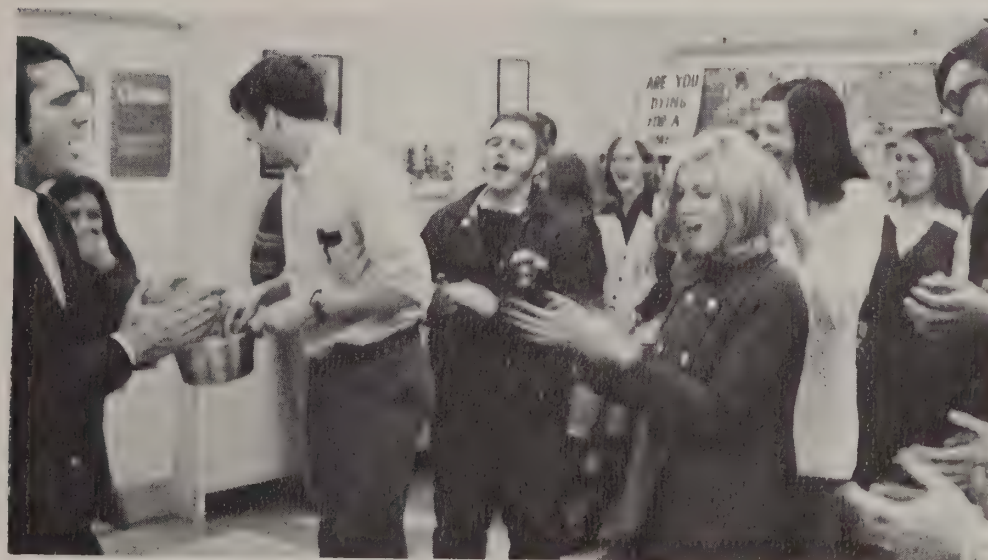

It rained
and the flowers still grew.

To fulfill the third aim, Christmas greetings were sent to Vietnam and . . .

JCL Offers A "Simple Gift"

How does one express hope, inspiration, and destruction — all so intangible, using actors, singers, films, and slides? This year the Junior Classical League accomplished such a feat.

Director and advisor to the group, Mr. Charles Bradshaw, presented the theme to JCL members early in the year, which set the wheels in motion toward the club's third assembly. The theme, however, differed from the optimistic themes of the past.

The story revolved around Debby, played by Debby Tenerowicz, a young girl who was growing up and discovering the world around her.

She still clung to her childhood dreams, but found them being torn away from her by the evil world outside.

She met a visitor from the past, the poet, Vergil (Tom Tenerowicz), who taught her that life is made up of simple gifts — clean air, flowers, clouds, and smiles.

Later she was forced to watch in horror as Hypocrisy (Sar Silva) gave the children "gifts" such as cigarettes, liquor, and guns.

However, despite Vergil's concern, she was overwhelmed by life, which eventually led to the destruction of her dreams.

Praise should also be given to actors, Odette Nunes and John Nowak, the JCL singers, the children, Dan Rescia for the soundtrack, and the film crew for the films, all of which led to a moving assembly, which gave the audience the desire to see life's simple gifts, too.

They said it couldn't be done —
to combine the singing, acting, and dancing of non-professionals in order to produce the professional quality of a Broadway musical, the goal —

Brigadoon.

Musical director, Mr. Gregory Wrinn, instilled in everyone a dream

and with the help of dedicated teachers and hard working students, the dream began to come true.

Even before the night of the first performance, May 21,

Kim MacMaster had become Tommy, sharing the lead part with Holly Warner, Fiona.

The audience could almost feel the love as the two sang
"From This Day On".

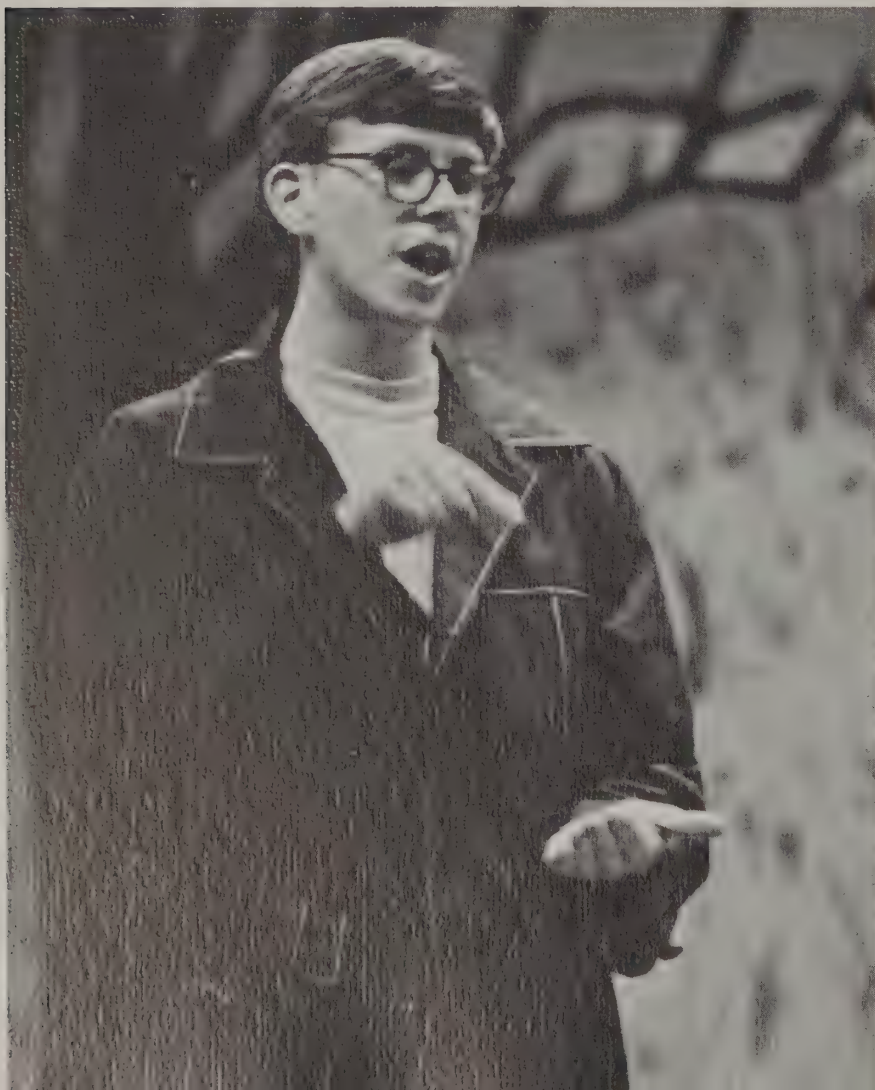

Jay LaBrecque and his character, Jeff, were one and the same and just as well liked as the talented Joanne Pereira.

Joe Wrinn made the part of Charlie come alive, and Gail Blais, as Jean, echoed the beauty of
"Come to Me, Bend to Me".

Dancers Marge Hintz and Chris Reynolds added to the splendor of a "too good to be true" performance, which could only have ended with a full-house and a standing ovation.

Student Council Creates Liaison Committee

Ludlow High's student government body has undergone drastic revision in the past two years. Student Council has strengthened its attendance by penalizing absent members and has kept the school informed of its doings by reading the minutes of each meeting in the homerooms. This year, the Council discussed a late bus, open study, and senior privileges, all of which are hoped to pass when the problem of double sessions is resolved. They were able to accomplish many things however, including a drug assembly put on by Marathon House. The development of a student-faculty liaison committee, an attempt at cooperation between students and teachers, is the accomplishment of which Student Council is most proud.

Hi-Y Provides Aid — Entertainment

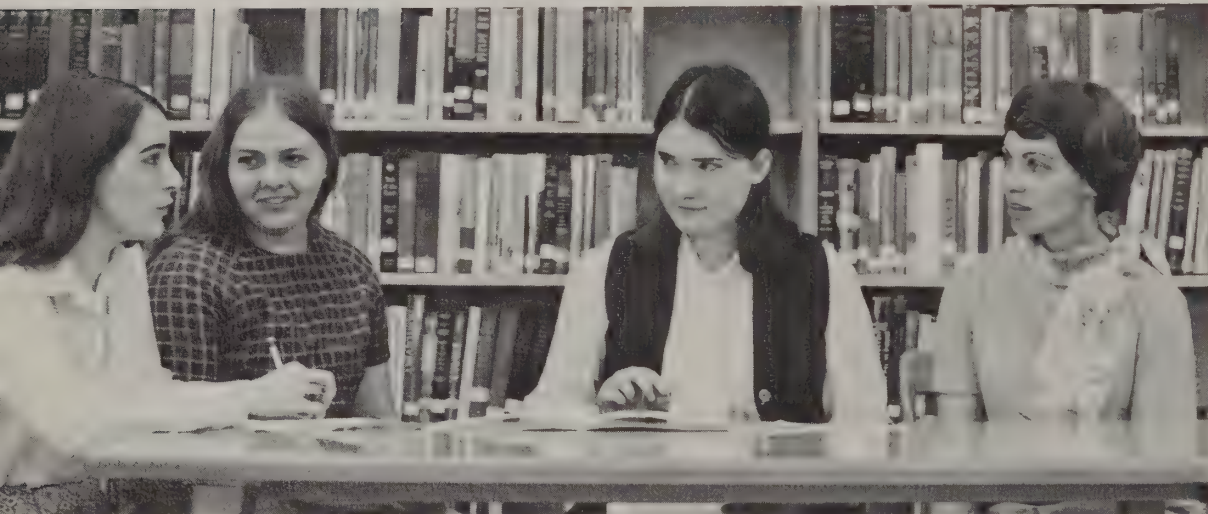

Crazy people, wild times, helping others. The Hi-Y, an honorary organization limited to boys, is probably the most unselfish — but most enjoyable — organization in the school. They brought tears of laughter to the eyes of all who attended their triple roll of basketball craziness, and entertained a packed auditorium with their annual Hi-Y Show. As they do every fall, the boys put together food baskets in order to make Thanksgiving a little happier for the less fortunate families in town.

Red Cross Brings Help To The Needy

A person in need is not to be ignored at LHS. The Red Cross is constantly engaged in projects to help the poor, the aged, the orphans, the afflicted. Their annual Red Cross Fund Drive raises hundreds of dollars to be distributed by the Springfield Inter-High Council. This year, they collected money and usable toys for the Children's Christmas fund. They visited the Veterans Hospital at Christmas time, singing carols and bringing cheer to the sick. The Red Cross means hard work and thought, smiles and songs, compassion and fulfillment.

Student Patrol Again Includes Girls; Women's Lib Triumphs At LHS

Indignant over last year's all-male student patrol, the girls of Ludlow High determined that they, too, should become members of the corridor monitoring system. Anxious to avoid a women's liberation movement, Jim Pereira, captain of the patrol, included a handful of feminine members on the predominantly male student patrol. Even more girls could be found on corridor patrol. Members of the corridor patrol spend their study periods in the halls, checking for students who are illegitimately out of class.

Stagnant curriculum, poor snow removal, yearbook crisis, outdated traditions, debate on the relative value of sports and academics.

Such were the topics of Hi-News editorials, sometimes causing hard feelings, unfortunately,
but also stirring controversy and bringing about change.
As a result of the important issues the Hi-News brought to the surface, a compromise was effected on the yearbook staff, the boring Class Day was replaced by a more meaningful tradition, and the LHS curriculum is in the process of revision.

The Hi-News editors brought about change within the school paper itself as well.

They innovated a four-page senior issue to replace the traditional two-page supplement, and created a section called "Applause", giving credit to all those who are never recognized for their hard work. Hi-News Artist, Tom Ackerman, changed the face of the paper with a new banner, and created the official Ludlow Lion.

Inactivity Plagues Pro Merito

It's a sad thing when talent goes unrewarded. It's a sad thing when intelligence is crowded out of the picture by a dozen other activities in an institution that is supposed to nurture and encourage intelligent thinking.

It's a sad thing to see the inactivity that has plagued Ludlow's branch of the National Honor Society, Pro Merito.

Pro Merito has formerly sponsored such activities as book fairs, seniors trips and colorful initiations. The members were identified at graduation by gold tassels and pins.

This year, they still had the tassels and pins — but that was it.

No initiations — no trips — nothing.

Pinpointing the fault is difficult and unfair.

We can only hope that the scholars of Ludlow High will find greater enrichment in future

Pro Merito activities.

Library Aides Complete Active Year

The Library Aides may be a relatively unnoticed group, but it certainly is noticed when they're not around. The organization and efficiency they add to the library is genuinely missed on days when it must be closed. But filing books and stamping cards are not their only activities. Trips to the Robert Frost, Emily Dickinson, and Hampshire College Libraries were included in their schedule for the year.

Model Congress Slashes Seniority System

Model Congress representatives this year submitted a controversial bill concerning abolishment of seniority rule. Sponsor and co-sponsor of the bill, Rae Crandell and Cindy Pikul, made the supporting speeches and the bill passed on policy calendar. John Nowak and Sar Silva commandeered a voting card and took part as illegal members of the debate. This active participation, however illegally attained, was fun for the boys and beneficial to their experience as next year's senior members.

Maroon Key Sponsors Donkey Game

There is a group of boys in LHS, deserving recognition but rarely receiving it. Everyone knows the boys in Maroon Key as the ones who wear red armbands as they patrol athletic games. But few know what it takes to belong to the Maroon Key and what their true purpose is. Success in both sports and academics grant the boys needed points to belong to Maroon Key. They exist to serve and honor the school. This year, they brought variety to LHS with the renowned Donkey Basketball Game.

Future Nurses Aim To Help Others

Service is the purpose of many organizations, and the girls are not among the least of them.

Those girls hoping to devote their lives to the service of others through nursing are welcome to join the Future Nurses of America.

Under the experienced guidance of Mrs. Helen Girard, the Future Nurses explore the many phases of nursing and plan the different types of schooling necessary for each.

Trips to local health centers provide the girls with first-hand knowledge of the workings of a hospital and the duties of an efficient nurse.

Wrestling Club – Earnest And Hopeful

A group of earnest boys approached Veterans Park teacher Mr. Trayhan in the fall, with a plea and a proposition. Anxious to form a wrestling team but unable to find proper supervision, the boys asked him to be their advisor. He agreed to coach them for a year as a club, in the hopes that enough interest would be aroused so that wrestling could become a team sport in future years here. The small group learned basic techniques of wrestling among themselves, but attendance at their meetings never exceeded fifteen boys. Thus, wrestling will not become a team sport in Ludlow for quite a while. It may not even survive as a club. But an attempt was made and hopes are still high for the future.

Enthusiasm Sparked By LHS Cheerleaders

rooting them to victory.

The 1971 Lion Staff Includes Underclassmen For The First Time

Cold and frightened — the 1971 yearbook staff entered the school year facing an almost impossible task. They knew nothing about putting out a yearbook — hard work and experimentation were their only salvation. Determined that next year's staff should not face the same problems, the editors invited underclassmen to join — and help — and learn. There's really not much to say about this year's LION staff. Sports

Lions Erupt For Exciting Season

There is nothing more beautiful than a rainbow, but to make one it takes both rain and sunshine.

The 1971 soccer season,
producing triumphs as well as heartbreaks, furnished unforgettable memories for both fans and players.

As the season began,
the eyes of Western Mass., curious of what kind of team the Lions could produce, were focused on Ludlow.

The Lions quickly let everyone know by outscoring their opponents 32 goals to 1 in their first four games.

The heartbreaks began at the fifth game of the season which, although controlling the game and outshooting their opponents 35-12, the Lions dropped to Chicopee 1-0.

However, the Lions were later given the victory when it was discovered that Chicopee had used an ineligible player.

But Fierce Play

After breezing through most of the season, the Lions lost the season finale to Northampton 2-1, to end up in second place in the Valley League. In the Western Mass. play-offs, Coach Yando's team crushed Tech 7-0 and beat tough Taconic 1-0. The stage was set — Chicopee was the new target. Springfield College hosted the highly publicized game, viewed by a crowd of five thousand. With the tension high, and both teams desperately wanting the win, Chicopee was able to pull out the victory by a 3-1 score.

Is Not Enough To Grasp The Gold Cup

The season ended that day but the Lions had finished a fine season with an over-all record of 14 wins-2 losses.

The Ludlow offense, outscoring their opponents 84 goals to 10,
was led by all-league junior Fred "Mula" Pereira (24), senior Mario "Mushy" Pereira (18), and senior Isidoro Ganhao (15).

Mario Pereira was chosen to all-league, all-Western Mass, and all-New England.

Bino Gonsalves and Armadeau Santos also played well on offense this season.
Contributing to the defense were Julio Da Silva,
Chuck Belisle, Tony Ribeiro, Tony Gomes,
Dennis Bertini, and Mark Gaviglio.

One of the big thorns in the Lion's paw came early in the season when co-captain Dennis Duarte, responsible for initiating the Lion attack, was injured and unable to play.

Lions Finish Successful 6-3 Season

It was a new playing surface and home games again for the Lions who,
although expected to go undefeated, still finished with a respectable 6 and 3 record.
Lead by co-captains Bob Gilrein, Neil Paquette, and Joe Lavoie, the season started with a disappointing 6-0 loss to arch-rival Minnechaug.

It was tough to recover after seeing an undefeated record fall at the beginning of the season but the Lions came back to topple Trade and Commerce with convincing scores.

East Longmeadow punctured the title hopes when the Lions got too far behind on a hot afternoon.

In the next two games.

Coach "Chick" Patullo's Lions showed that they knew football by defeating Holyoke Catholic and Longmeadow, the former suburban champs.

Then came the game of the season.

South Hadley was the only undefeated team still reigning.

Their defeat meant a lot at this stage of the game for by this time no one thought that Ludlow had a championship team.

Lions On

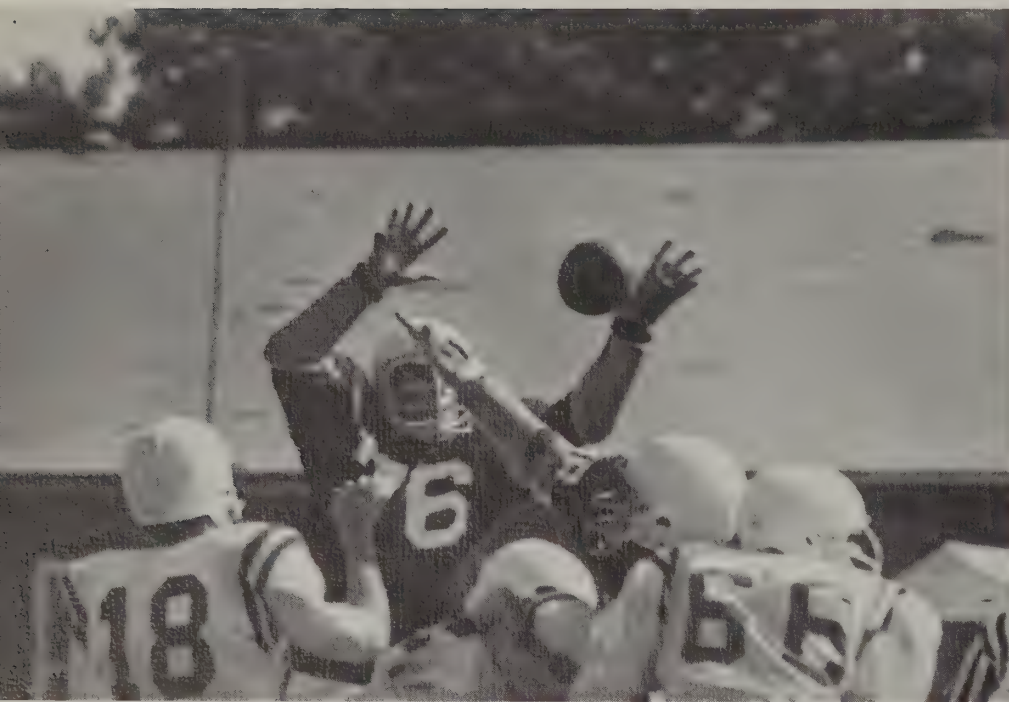

Even during the first half, the Lions trailed 12-8. Yet, they never lost their confidence and hammered in two scores. The final tally was 26-12, the Lions on top.

There were many top individual performers. Heading the list was fullback Neil "Moose" Paquette.

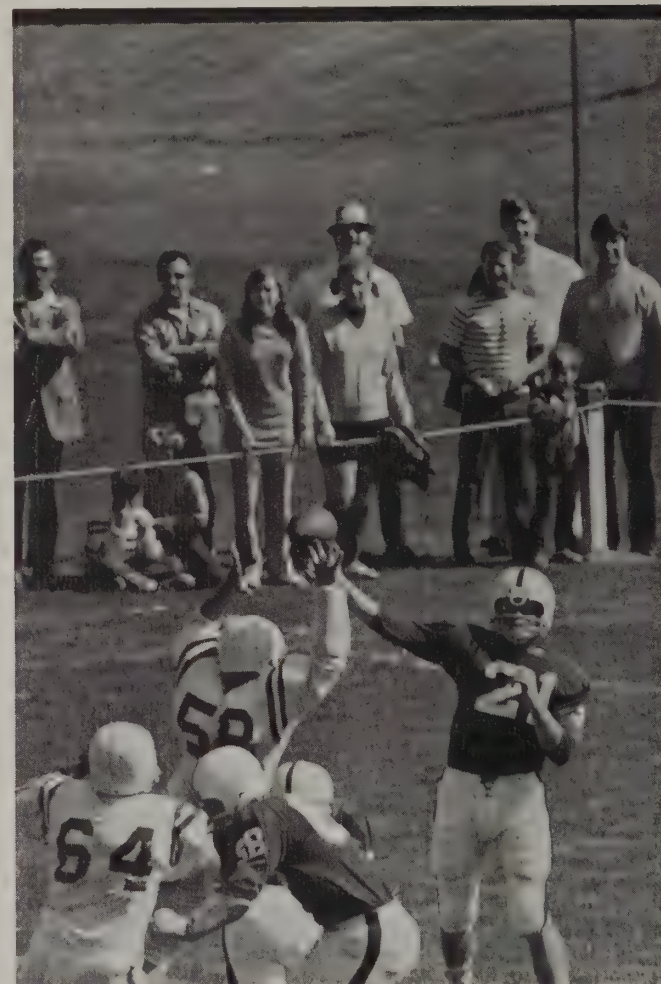

Not only did he attain All-Suburban League and All-Western Mass. status for two years in a row, but he also broke numerous school records, including Coach Patullo's own record of most points per season.

Others on All-Suburban were lineman Joe Lavoie, linebacker Reid Savoie and defensive back Mike Fedoras. Joe Lavoie also made All-Western Mass. at offensive right tackle.

Finally, Bob Duval completed a perfect high school football career by breaking his leg for the third season in a row.

LHS Seeks To Regain Hoop Status

After two dismal seasons, the Lion hoopsters regained some of the prestige they had gained during the years when Ludlow was the "Home of Champions."

This team showed that they no longer wished to be the doormat of the league by quickly reeling off two straight victories.

Then, the Lions became plagued by injuries and sickness and lost several close decisions.

But the team's high-spirited play showed the type of competitor Ludlow had once been.

High scorer Al Wadas paced the team.

Playmaker Bob Gilrein led the team on offense.

Gary Allen and Jim Pereira saw action.

Rich Ewick played the post.

Bill Kolodziey, Tom Jarosz, Dan Ouellette, Ray Williamson, Mike Morcavage, Rick Ewick, Gary Allen, Coach "Buzz" Connery.

Juniors who will lead the team next year and saw plenty of action this year were: Ray Williamson, the flashy guard; Mike Morcavage at center, Dan Ouellette, Mark Condon, Wally Ricardi and Tom Jarosz. The lone sophomore was guard Ron Swol.

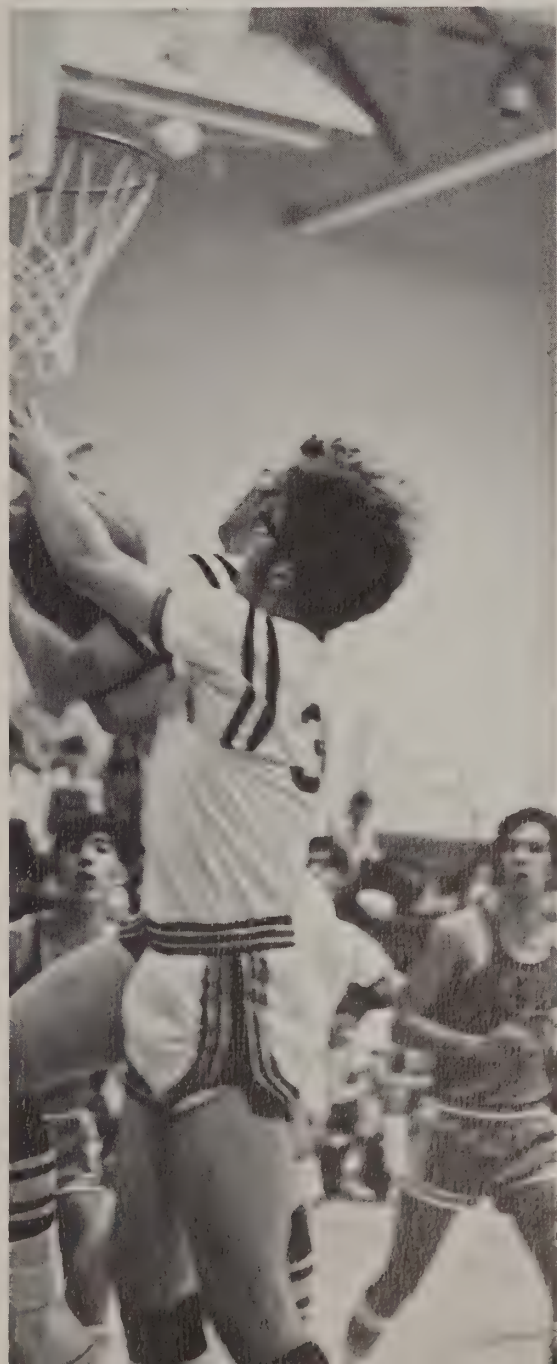

But Finish With A 7-12 Record.

Seals Survive Trying Times

Snow fell — blanketing, creating, hiding nature's beauties and imperfections.

But not all was hidden.

The Seals,
Ludlow's feminine winter athletic organization, came out of their warm weather hibernation.

However, there was a menacing problem.

As the season began,
the Seals had no coach.

Miss Martha All,
an East Street Elementary School teacher, rescued the team
from impending dissolution.

Coach All, with the aid of student coaches Jane Howe and Diane Gonsalves, molded a team — co-ordinated, dedicated, and talented — which has a great future.

Lions Finish Season 9-4-4.

To appreciate the sweetness of victory, one must have experienced the bitterness of defeat.

On December 21, the Lions met a demoralizing defeat at the hands of the Chicopee Pacers.

With the Lions ahead 3-1 and just a few minutes left in the game, Chicopee was able to score 3 quick goals to pull out the game and bring back memories of the recent soccer season.

The season was highlighted by outstanding individual performances, such as the three goal of Marshall Robar to beat Tech 3-2;

the record-tying seven goals in one game

by Senior Jay Costa, and the all-around teamwork of a winning season.

Defensive players Bob Howe, Joe Dias,

John Jorge and Neil Paquette harassed and continually broke up the attack of opposing lines throughout the season.

Lions Avenge Bitter Defeats

In the season finale, fans from West Springfield, Agawam, and East Longmeadow joined the Ludlow contingent in the stands to cheer the Lions in the Chicopee rematch.

In the first few minutes of play,
Keith Martin and Scott McChesney both tallied for a 2-0 lead.

With the Lions in front 3-2, Scot McChesney and Jay Costa let loose fantastic slap shots to notch crucial goals and put the game out of reach.

The Lions 5-3 win dramatically revenged all the heartbreaks of the past and set off a wild demonstration of rejoicing by players as well as fans.

So Close Yet So Far Away

At the beginning of the season, Coach Mullins was positive that the Lions were championship material.

He was equally as sure that the league champs would need a 10-2 record.

For the Lions,
the season went well.

Spirits were high,
confidence was soaring.

With three games to go, the Lions boasted a record of 8-1.

Disaster struck. Two of the three were lost. Once again, the Lions barely missed the title.

Girls Softball Becomes A Reality

No uniforms . . . borrowed equipment . . . over-sized fields . . . these were some of the handicaps which had to be overcome when a determined group of LHS girls banded together to form a girls softball team.

Nevertheless, co-captains Pat Collette, Jane Howe, and Dot Haluch, along with Coach Charles Bradshaw, scheduled practices in the hope of playing at least a few games. Lack of varsity status handicapped the team, but East Longmeadow and Amherst Regional agreed to play.

Understandably nervous against East Longmeadow, they had a bad first inning and found themselves unable to make up the lost ground. Later, on their first and only road trip to Amherst, they caused some excitement as they again fell behind in the first inning, but staged a 13 run rally in the fourth and fifth innings to lose by only a small margin. Although they didn't win any games, the girls caused enough interest and excitement to warrant a strong possibility of full varsity status in 1972.

Track Team Has Disappointing Season

Disappointment — this word could be synonymous with the 1971 Track Season.

To begin the season, the team lost their head coach. Coach Joe Szlosek was taken ill and was unable to coach until the end of the season. However, Assistant coach Robert Trayhan showed his competence as a coach in this crisis.

The season's only highlight was Bob Miller's record-breaking run in the 440 hurdles. The season ended with a team record of 1-9.

Ludlow Boys On The Green

The LHS golf team, led by captain Dan Orlik, continued their excellent shotmaking by ending the season with an impressive 10-4 record. This enabled the Lions to make their second appearance in the Western Mass. Team Tournament.

The team finished in a tie for eighth of the 13 competing schools.

Dan Orlik, one of the best amateurs in Western Mass., served as the anchorman of the team.

He was the most consistent golfer, shooting in the 70's in all team matches. His only score above 80 unfortunately came in the Western Mass. Individual Tourney.

Four other team members competed in this match — Stanley Pirog, Mark Frydryk, Tim Kurty, and Ray Parulak.

Others on the team were Paul Mondry, who played well in the team tourney, Paul "Flash" Mazur, and Ralph Mendes.

Coach Richard Malek began in 1969.

The records of the team have been 11-6, 11-4, and 10-4.

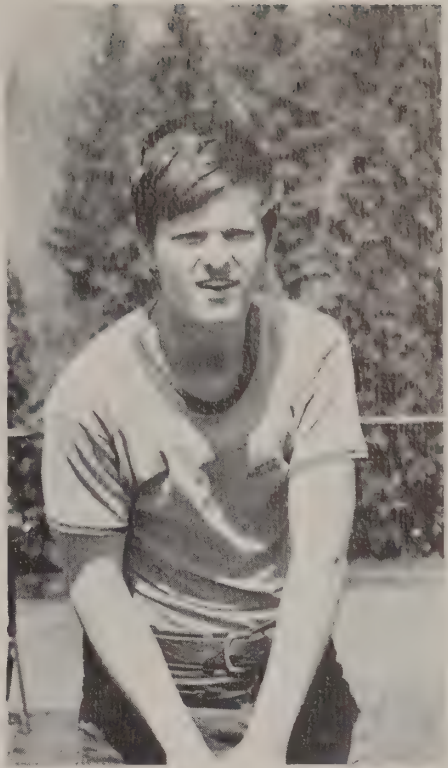

Coach Malek deserves much credit.

Seniors

The Class Of 1971 Treasures

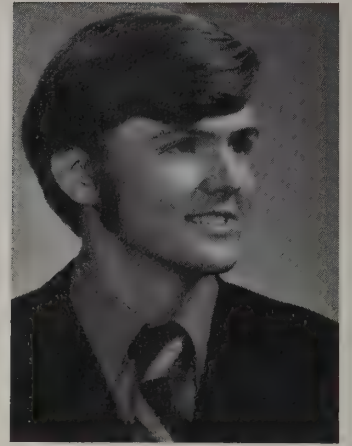

As far as most freshmen are concerned, the next four years might as well be four hundred. The years stretch ahead filled with hours of homework and difficult classes. But three years crawl by and finally senior year arrives.

The Class of 1971 entered senior year in much the same way as any other class. There was the usual rush to file college applications and to make post-graduation plans. Christmas vacation came and went in a rush of snow and cold weather. Then, immediately after vacation, the senior class organized rehearsals for the Senior Show, "We've Only Just Begun." An unusual amount of dedication, spirit and ability made up for a rather slow and faltering start. The seniors worked as one, struggled as one, then experienced success as one.

Plans for the senior banquet followed on the heels of "We've Only Just Begun." Along with the plans came a realization — four years of hard work and good times were coming to an end. Yet, there was little time to dwell on this fact. Senior Week arrived, bringing with it Class Night, the banquet, Senior Assembly and graduation. The seniors watched the week pass with a bittersweet mixture of relief and sadness. On June 9 at the Springfield Municipal Auditorium, the Class of 1971 bid its final farewell to Ludlow High School.

"If in the twilight of memory
We should meet once more,
We shall speak again together
And you shall sing to me
A deeper song . . .

And if our hands
Should meet in another dream
We shall build Another tower
In the sky."

KAHLIL GIBRAN

We've Only Just Begun

We've only just begun —
And these four years so fleeting passed.
Forever rushing in stairs and halls,
Missing bells and fighting falls;
Writing themes at 7:15,
Boarding that bus is a sight to be seen.

We've only just begun —

Yet it seems we've come so far.
A score of football games we've won,
Then Senior Show much more than fun.
We joined in effort and proved with might
The Class of '71 could do it right.

We've only just begun —
To live, to learn, to do.
A frightening sky burns out the day,
Beckoning young hearts to find a way,
And minds whose hopes will never cease
Til every soul can live in peace.

We've only just begun —

"A kiss for luck and we're on our way."
We've sung our song and made our mark,
Now time has come to disembark
To find a greater, brighter sun —
We've only just begun.

For many years
a familiar face smiled at us.
This smile showed many things —
Dedication, Concern,
Humor,
Joy.

It is hard to believe the importance of a single smile.
Smiles are seldom appreciated until they are no more.
But we can give our smiles in the hope that we shall not forget that special one.

Now we can not
and will not say good-bye.
Until tomorrow, Mrs. Proctor, we shall meet again.
Thank you for your love.

Class Night Gives New Meaning To Senior Activities

June arrived — bringing its warm days and bright sun.

But for the Class of 1971
it was the beginning of the end.

The traditional Class Day ceremonies were dropped after an editorial in the Hi-News.

Senior Advisor Leonard Charest, with the help of concerned seniors, developed a new program for Class Night.

The Invocation was given by Maureen Tavares, then President William G. Bloodworth welcomed the audience.

The class history was presented by Michael Abair, Debbie Dickenson, Sue Chenier, and Sandy Savitt.
Diane Gonsalves and Richard Bergeron announced the Class Ballot. Salutatorian Marybeth Shepard gave the Class Night Oration. Diana Taylor wrote and presented the class poem.

Seniors Meet For Last Supper

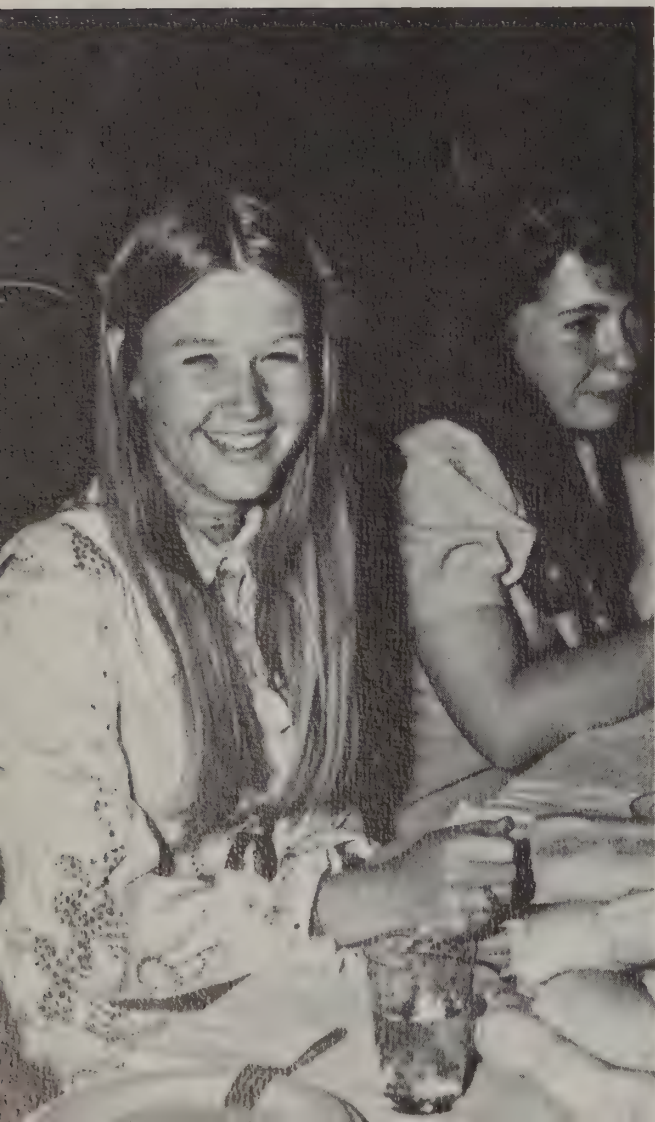

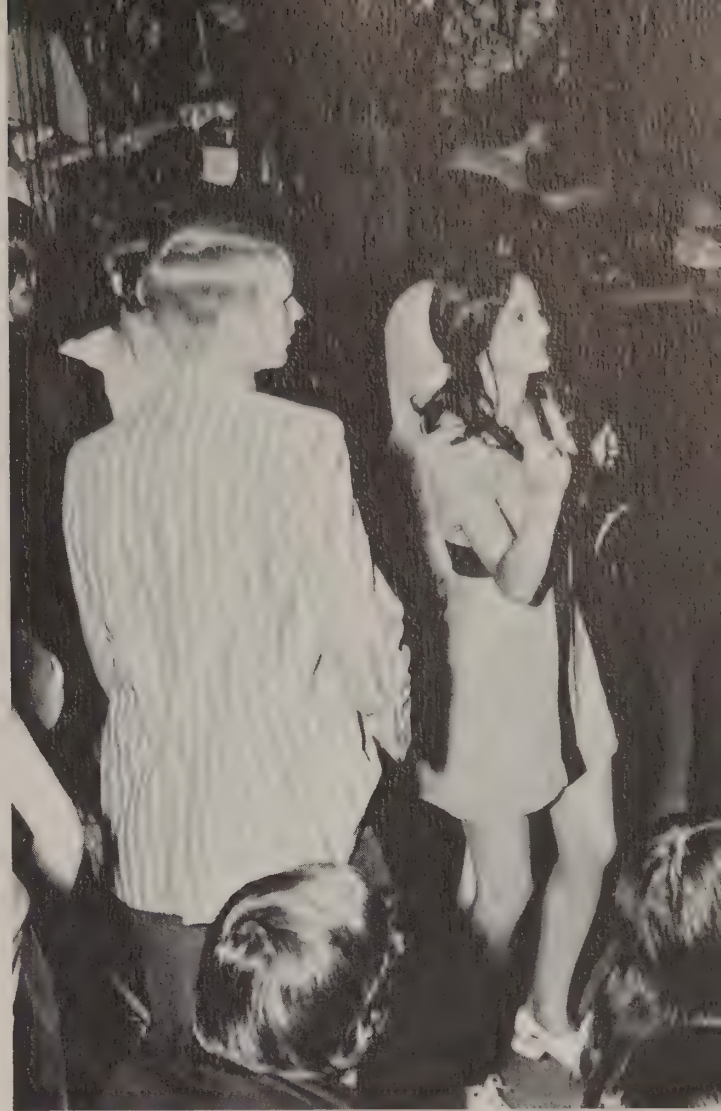

On the warm Monday evening of June 7, the class of 1971 and faculty met at the Polish-American Club in Ludlow for the senior banquet.

After reading the final issue of the Hi-News, laughing over the original class wills, everyone sat down to a delicious catered filet mignon dinner. After dinner, tables were cleared away to make room for dancing to the music of Genesis.

It was an evening to remember forever, as everyone was brought together in the realization that their years at LHS were coming to an end.

Adding to the reminiscences were Christy Cordwin and Candy Lavoie, who had moved to Nebraska and Florida as underclassmen and returned for a reunion with their former classmates.

The organ peeled the chords of "Pomp and Circumstance."

Sweet '71 entered the LHS Auditorium for the last time. With the piano accompaniment of Kim MacMaster, Gail Blais and Linda Robbins dueted on "Both Sides Now." Karen Carlson presented the class gift, a stereo tape deck. Dr. Vartanian showed two films, Donkey Basketball and South Hadley Football, with tapes by Dan Rescia. Barbara Stadnicki bid farewell to retiring Mrs. Proctor. Yearbook advisor Charles Bradshaw and editor Beth Shepard thanked all connected with the publication. Senior Richard Methot inspired the audience with the words of Abraham Lincoln. But the most emotion-filled moment was the presentation of the 1971 LION Dedication. Cindy Campana presented the dedication to Mr. Joseph Andreis. His words of thanks and encouragement will be long remembered by Sweet '71. At the close of the program was a choral reminder, "You'll Never Walk Alone."

The Graduation Of Sweet '71 Arrives.

Tears, years, peers, fears — these made the graduation ceremony of the Class of 1971.

The LHS Band sounded the beginning of the end with "Pomp and Circumstance."
Solemnly, the class entered the auditorium led by President William G. Bloodworth.

After the Invocation, the Band and Concert Choir combined their talents in "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" with Senior Ken Duda as soloist.

Patrick C. Hughes, Valedictorian, then reminded the class of the joys and sorrows it had shared.

Diplomas were awarded,
the President's message presented,
the Benediction given.

Finally, a simple hope —
"The Lord Bless You And Keep You"

We Smile . . .

“For what is it to die but to stand naked in the wind and to melt into the sun?
And what is it to cease breathing, but to free the breath from its restless tides, that it may rise and expand and seek God unencumbered?

Only when you drink from the river of silence shall you indeed sing.
And when you have reached the mountain top, then you shall begin to climb.
And when the earth shall claim your limbs, then shall you truly dance.”

The 1971 LION
Could not have happened
Without these people.
There is no way, no words,
To fully thank all.
We began
With a dream,
And ended
With a reality.
Small miracles do happen.
Thank you all
For your understanding,
Guidance, and help.

The Crazy One

Thus The Departure From The World
Which We Have Known
Becomes A Sparkling Burst,
And From The Dead Of Night . . .

... Dawn rises.
